

Paramus High School Co-Curricular Handbook 2021 – 2022

Club Descriptions, Advisor & Meeting Information

Join a club!

It is a great way to get involved in a positive experience. Meet new people, build your high school resume and have fun!

Amaranth Literary Workshop

The Literary Workshop provides a meeting place for students interested in writing original poetry or prose, and for creative artists. At the informal meetings, members exchange opinions on original work by students at the high school – both members and non-members of the Workshop. We encourage submission of material across the entire curriculum. This assures fairness, and authors and artists names are never revealed when their work is under consideration. At these meetings selections are made for Amaranth, the magazine published by the Workshop in late spring.

The advisor of the Workshop sees the meetings as times when “students of varying degrees of interest and talent meet to exchange views on what makes good original literature and art.” All students are welcomed into the Workshop. They need not write or draw to participate in the meetings.
